DESCRIPTION OF COMPONENTS

Description of Components
No	Activities	Description	Objectives
1	Welcoming Ceremony & Program Orientation	- Ice breaker - Life Orientation - Program Explanation - Problem solving guidance	- Students break the ice to get along with friends - Students learn about life in Vietnam - Students understand program components and experience they will have in program - Students know how to solve when they have any problems during stay in Vietnam
2	Culture Exchange	- Students share traditions, food, or customs from their home countries - Interactive games and performances - Open discussion on similarities and differences	- Students practice cross-cultural communication in a real setting. - Students experience cultural exchange as a two-way, mutual process. - Students build friendships that extend beyond the program.
3	Workshop #1: Sustainable Growth Story	- Overview of sustainable development trends in Vietnam and Da Nang - Case comparison: two local models of sustainable development - Trà Nhiêu (community-driven economic growth) and Sơn Trà (conservation-driven growth) - Introduction to Trà Nhiêu's community development journey - Guidance on observation, interview, and video-recording techniques ahead of the community visit	- Students understand sustainable growth as both a national and a local story - Students recognize that sustainable development can take different forms, growth-led or conservation-led - Students prepare with the right mindset and tools to engage meaningfully with the Trà Nhiêu community - Students set clear goals for what they want to learn and capture in the community site visit
4	Community visit #1: Trà Nhiêu	- Visit to Trà Nhiêu fishing village and its river community - Listening session: local residents share their community's development journey - Students identify local development opportunities and challenges while filming short videos to help promote Trà Nhiêu	- Students hear, first-hand, how a local community navigates sustainable development through economic activity - Students gather real material: stories, footage, challenges to shape a development idea for Trà Nhiêu - Students practice storytelling as a tool for sustainable development, not just observation
5	Workshop #2: ROOTS TO ROUTES - Sustainable Development Reflection	- Group reflection and video review from the Trà Nhiêu visit - Teams draft a short sustainable development idea/recommendation for Trà Nhiêu, based on what they observed - Introduction to Sơn Trà as a contrasting model: sustainable development through conservation rather than economic growth - Guidance from faculty on structuring the final presentation for Closing Ceremony	- Students turn their Trà Nhiêu experience into a concrete, practical development idea - Students understand that sustainable development can be pursued through growth or through conservation - Students arrive at Sơn Trà the next day with a clear question to investigate, not just to sightsee - Students leave with a clear plan and structure for their final presentation
6	Excursion Tour - Sơn Trà Peninsula	- Visit to the Nature Education Center; sightseeing at Vọng Cảnh Viewing and Bàn Cờ Peak - Spotting and observing the red-shanked douc langur (Vọoc Sơn Trà) in its natural habitat - Storytelling session on forest and nature conservation at Sơn Trà, framed as a comparison to Trà Nhiêu's model - Students take field notes for their final presentation, contrasting the two development approaches	- Students see how Da Nang protects a critical natural ecosystem right next to a growing city - Students witness endangered-species conservation first-hand, not just in theory - Students complete the comparison started in Workshop #2 - economic development (Trà Nhiêu) vs. conservation-led development (Sơn Trà) - Students gather the final piece of evidence for their closing presentation
7	Gift exchange on Christmas Day	- Christmas gift exchange among students and buddies - Students prepare a small gift representing their home country or culture (optional) - Sharing Christmas traditions and festive customs from different countries - Group interaction and celebration in a festive atmosphere	- Students experience the spirit of giving and cultural appreciation during Christmas. - Students strengthen friendships and build a stronger sense of community within the programme. - Students learn about different cultural traditions and celebrations through informal interaction. - Students create memorable cross-cultural experiences beyond the classroom.
8	Student Presentations & Closing Ceremony	- Student groups present sustainable development recommendations that draw on both the Trà Nhiêu and Sơn Trà experiences - Faculty members facilitate discussion, provide feedback, and encourage critical reflection on business practices, innovation, and cross-cultural experience in Vietnam	- Students consolidate two contrasting models of sustainable development into one coherent set of recommendations - Students practice presenting ideas to an international, mixed audience - Students leave with a tangible recognition of their achievement
9	Camping & Reflection	- Guided group reflection session in a camping setting - Sharing of personal highlights and lessons from the program - Closing group activity / bonfire	- Students reflect on how the program's themes came together for them personally. - Students bond as a group before the program ends. - Students close the program with a shared, memorable experience

Students are required to particpate more than 80% of the program to receive the certificate of completion

CLASSES & WORKSHOPS

Workshop #1: Sustainable Growth Story

Students explore sustainable development in Vietnam and Da Nang, then prepare interview and video-storytelling skills for the Tra Nhieu community visit.

Workshop #2: Roots to Routes Sustainable Development Reflection

Students reflect on the Tra Nhieu visit, compare growth-led and conservation-led development, and shape their ideas ahead of the Son Tra tour and final presentation.

Teamwork: Present your brilliant ideas!

Teams turn both journeys - Tra Nhieu and Son Tra - into sustainable development recommendations, presented to FPT faculty at the Closing Ceremony.

SOLVE LOCAL PROBLEMS IN DA NANG CITY WITH EXPERTS

Community Outreach

INTERCULTURAL EXPERIENCES & PERSONAL DEVELOPMENT

The community service was very engaging, allowing us to create something meaningful to share back home. I also loved where we worked with other students to create something beautiful. Most of all, I appreciated the kindness and support from the coordinators and buddies.

Tamara Cleverdon - University of Fraser Valley (Canada)

I love most about the games and the people around me! They were lovely and hospitable even with all the sudden challenges that arises.

Eric Sim Chong Li - National University of Singapore
